2009 NATIONAL LONG TERM CARE SYMPOSIUM: Monday, September 14 on Capitol Hill

On September 14, Genworth Financial will present its fourth annual National Long Term Care Symposium. Healthcare reform continues to lead debate in Washington and across the nation. As these discussions occur, the issue of long term care is also receiving much-needed attention. This two-panel, invitation-only forum will discuss challenges family and paid caregivers face and how various policy proposals under consideration in Congress fulfill the needs of millions of Americans.

Several members from the Congressional Long Term Care Caucus and more than 100 long term care stakeholders and professionals, congressional staffers, family and paid caregivers, industry leaders and advocates will convene on Capitol Hill for the National Long Term Care Symposium during a wide-ranging discussion about the intersection of healthcare reform and long term care.

WHO: Moderated by Howard Gleckman, Senior Research Associate, Urban Institute

Panel One: “The Long Term Care Workforce”

- Suzanne Mintz – President, National Family Caregivers Association
- Virginia Morris – Family Caregiving Expert
- Ancil Alexander – Paid Caregiver, PHI – Quality Care through Quality Jobs
